LEONARD VICTOR, THOUGH NEARLY KNOCKED OUT

Lightweight Champion, Felled for First Time, Is Winner in Sixth Round.

SOCIETY SEES BATTLE.

Opponent Puts Up Game Struggle and the Affair Is Real Fistic Sensation.

By Vincent Treanor.

Benny Leonard knocked out Michel Mitchell last night at Madison Square Garden in the sixth round of the most sensational fight since the Dempsey-Willard championship affair at Toledo July, 1919. In the language of the regulars "it was all right." Mitchell was felled six times. He went down three times in the very first round and three more in the last, when referee Haukooff stopped the contest with Mitchell out on his feet. The big feature of the bout, however, came in the opening round. Mitchell had taken three full counts when he rose, forced Leonard back into his own corner and dropped him solidly with a left hook to the chin. For a moment the big crowd on hand was shocked and surprised. The spectacle of the vaunted champion sitting on the floor, shaking his head vigorously to clear it, and at the same time trying to assure his second that he was all right, was entirely unexpected. It seemed as if Mitchell had arisen from almost certain defeat to victory in a few seconds after exhibiting a fighting spirit rarely seen in the ring. It was the first knockdown ever scored on Leonard since he won the lightweight championship and it carried with it more than the sting of ignominy. Leonard made no attempt to get to his feet, but sat in a semi-dazed condition while the referee's hand went up and down nine times. Benny took the first before he got back on his fighting pins. The bell rang shortly after that and no more damage was done to either man in that session. After this the champion had the upper hand throughout, but found in the Milwaukee boy about the most willing and best natural fighter he has ever met. Time and time again Mitchell tried hard to land a right in Leonard's chin, but he missed more often than he succeeded. Once or twice he connected and when he did Benny shook under the force of the blows. Unlike most of Leonard's opponents, Mitchell took the aggressive, that is, he fought right into

MRS. HARRINGTON BREAKS LONG FAST TO SAVE HUSBAND

MRS. SADIE HARRINGTON

ERNEST HARRINGTON

"Ready for Breakfast," She Says on 48th Day After Preacher's Two-Hour Plea.

DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Sadie Harrington broke her fast to-day, after abstaining from food for forty-eight days, following a two-hour plea by the Rev. G. S. Payne.

"I am ready for my breakfast now," she said, after the Rev. Mr. Payne had won the victory.

Mrs. Harrington was fasting to force her husband Ernest Harrington to join the Church of God.

Payne called Ada Peercy, a nurse, to bring a cup of milk which Mrs. Harrington immediately drank.

R. R. SHOPMEN VOTE FOR FOUR-DAY WEEK

Accept Reduction in Hours of Labor Rather Than Have Tenth of Men Idle.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 15.—Rather than have a tenth of their number thrown out of work, the entire shop force of the Northern Pacific Railway in the St. Paul district has agreed to go on a four-day basis. More than 2,000 are affected by the voluntary reduction of hours of labor. The company recently notified shop workers it would be compelled to reduce the force 10 per cent, effective Jan. 15, and the trades unions involved agreed to forego the clause of their contracts which calls for a six-day week, officials of the unions explained.

PAID FOR DIVORCE FOR MAN WHO WED ANOTHER, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Ada Tyler Sues Robert E. Ward for $4,250 She Says She Advanced.

ASKS NO DAMAGES.

Dry Goods Merchant Violated Agreement, Plaintiff Alleges, in Marrying Third Woman.

An unusual suit was begun in Supreme Court to-day by Mrs. Ada Tyler, former wife of a Montana business man, who asks that Robert E. Ward, connected with a drygoods firm at No. 455 Fifth Avenue, be directed to repay her $4,250.87, which, she alleges, he obtained from her on the assurance he would use the money to obtain a divorce from his wife, so he would be free to marry the plaintiff. Mrs. Tyler asks no damages.

This case, the first of its kind in this district, is given another queer turn by the statement in the complaint Ward did get a Nevada divorce from his wife, but returned to this city and married a Miss Gladys Claypole. This, Mrs. Tyler recites, was in violation of the agreement by which she gave him the money for divorce purposes.

Howard Campbell Jr. of No. 140 Nassau Street, Mrs. Tyler's attorney, while refusing to discuss his client's unique case, did call attention to the fact Mrs. Tyler has not followed the custom of suing for breach of promise. Mrs. Tyler said when she and Mr. Ward agreed to marry in December, 1918, she did not know he was, or had been married. She later learned, she said in her complaint, he had a wife with whom he had not lived for several years. It was then, according to her papers, it was arranged he go to Nevada, get a divorce and return to marry her.

GEDDES SUMMONED BACK TO LONDON

British Ambassador Sails at Once to Confer With Premier and Curzon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Sir Auckland Geddes, the British Ambassador, it was announced to-day at the British Embassy sailed from New York to-day for London. The Embassy's announcement says: "Sir Auckland Geddes sailed for England to-day from New York. He has been summoned to London to confer with the Prime Minister and the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. According to present intentions he will return to Washington in February."

Sir Auckland sailed on the Cunard liner Kaiserin Augusta Victoria shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon. At the Cunard offices it was stated positively that he was not a passenger on the steamer, and the ship's purser also declared that the Ambassador was not on board. But as the ship was pulling away from her pier Sir Auckland strolled out on dock, attired in a business suit and wearing a cap. A secretary was with him.

N. Y. MAN ROBBED OF GEMS.

Police Believe He Was Followed to Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—Jacob Allison, member of a New York firm of diamond merchants, reported to the police here late last night that he had been robbed of diamonds valued at $5,000.

The authorities expressed the opinion that the robbery was the work of persons who followed Allison to this city from New York.

BROKER IS KILLED BY MILITARY MAN ONCE HIS FRIEND

Major Griffith, Former Provost Marshal of Montreal Military District, the Slayer.

HAD ODD OBSESSION.

Believed His Victim Had Telepathic Influence Over Him—He Gives Himself Up.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—Major Robert Griffith, former Provost Marshal of the military district of Montreal, is a prisoner at Police Headquarters on his own confession that he shot and killed his former intimate friend, William Holland, manager of MacDougall Bros., brokers in St. Sacramento Street, yesterday afternoon. Major Griffith has been recently under treatment for a mental disorder at a hospital at Guelph, Ont. He insists the killing was justified by a tyrannical telepathic power possessed over him by Holland.

Griffith, who, like his victim, was prominent in financial and social circles of the city, has been devoted to study of the occult for many years. Of late he became estranged from Holland and complained to the Rev. Father Holland, brother of the broker, Dr. J. J. McGovern, his own brother-in-law, and others that he could no longer endure the mysterious domination of his thoughts and actions by Holland.

He asserted that Holland's control persisted in full effect while Holland was asleep so that Major Griffith himself was unable to sleep while Holland was waking and roamed the street all night in the effort to bring on an exhaustion which would defeat the other's mental influence and give him rest.

A shot was heard in Holland's office soon after the close of the stock market. A moment later the broker staggered into a nearby room and fell to the floor dead.

It was believed he had killed himself and the police, puzzled by the absence of a weapon, were searching the office for it minutely, when Major Griffith walked into Police Headquarters, went to a telephone and announced to his brother in a calm voice that he had shot Holland. He then turned and gave himself up to a police lieutenant, saying he supposed "there would be formalities to go through."

Both men were members of the Canada Council of the Knights of Columbus, and their one-time friendship for each other was the subject of general comment.

Corroboration of reports that Major Griffith believed Holland had hypnotized him was supplied to the police to-day by Rev. Father Holland of Quebec, brother of the dead man.

The clergyman said Major Griffith had written to him complaining of a hold his brother had on him, contending that he had mesmerized him at an amateur theatrical performance at St. Agathe last year. When Father Holland informed his brother of this, the latter wrote him to ignore the Major, characterizing him as either crazy or drunk, the priest added.

Major Griffith is said to have suffered heavily on the Montreal Stock Exchange recently, and was alleged to have written several threatening letters to Holland, who was formerly secretary of the exchange. A short time ago the Major was sent to Homewood Sanitarium at Guelph, Ontario.

WHITMAN GRAND JURY CALLS BOTH HYLAN AND ENRIGHT

Action of Police Commissioner in Refusing to Aid Inquiry Leads to Subpoenas.

SUBPOENAS for Mayor John F. Hylan and Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright to appear before the January Extraordinary Grand Jury Monday at 10.30 were served on both to-day. This was done by District Attorney Swann at the request of former Gov. Whitman, in charge of the investigation of the city government. This action followed a plain intimation that he meant to recommend to Gov. Miller the summary removal of Enright and perhaps of Mayor Hylan, to be based on the refusal of Enright to co-operate with Mr. Whitman in the Grand Jury investigation and the Mayor's apparent approval of Enright's behavior.

AUTO HOLD-UP MEN ATTACK PAYMASTER, SHOOT HIM AND GET OFF WITH $6,000 CASH

On His Way to Manhattan Brass Works on East 28th Street When They Sprang Upon Him—His Body Guard Felled With Wrench.

Carl Gunther, paymaster for the Manhattan Brass Works Company, No. 332 East 28th Street, carrying $6,000 in a bag and protected by a bodyguard, was shot and robbed on his way to the plant at 10 o'clock this morning.

The wound he got is just above the heart and he is reported to be near death at Bellevue Hospital. His guard, Richard Schimke, No. 428 East 83d Street, was knocked unconscious with a monkey wrench.

The bandits, of whom there were either four or five, escaped in an automobile, sped east to Second Avenue, turned south and eluded pursuit.

Schimke, when he recovered consciousness, was weak from loss of blood and was incoherent in speech, but the police pieced together his story as follows:

"Mr. Gunther and I went as usual to the Importers and Traders Bank, No. 247 Broadway, to get the money for the Saturday payroll. We rode uptown to 28th Street on the Third Avenue elevated and started walking east. When we were passing the public school at No. 229 East 28th Street I was hit from behind and that was all I knew until just now."

Witnesses said that they saw the automobile used by the bandits slip up to the curb a few yards behind the paymaster and his guard. Some said there were four men in the automobile, others said five.

Two of them got out and ran swiftly to overtake the pair with the bag of money. Several witnesses saw the guard struck down. He was walking a pace or two back of the paymaster.

As the guard fell, Gunther turned and faced the second bandit, who instantly shot him and caught at the bag. All who saw the scene declare that Gunther even after he had been shot put up a desperate battle and clung to the money bag until he sank to the pavement, apparently dying.

The automobile had followed slowly.

ENRIGHT PUTS UP TO HYLAN FULL RESPONSIBILITY FOR TURNING DOWN OF WHITMAN

THE POLICE COMMISSIONER SAYS:

"In My Time as Commissioner of Police My Resignation Has Been Announced Just Ninety Times and My Summary Removal Sixty—I May Resign Some Wet Tuesday After a Full Moon."

"To the Best of My Belief the Man Who Gave Out the Rumor of My Resignation Was Somebody Who Has Been Overlooked by Dr. Carleton Simon."

Commissioner of Police Richard E. Enright gave the following interview to an Evening World reporter to-day while at lunch in a restaurant at considerable distance from Police Headquarters. He was in high good humor and made light of the official storm in which he has been involved recently except that he placed squarely on Mayor Hylan the responsibility for the refusal of former Gov. Whitman's request for the assignment of Detective Al Thomas to the District Attorney's office to aid Mr. Whitman in the city government investigation.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 15.—Miss Harriet M. Kavanaugh, nurse at the Naval Hospital here, died to-day after being beaten into unconsciousness with a piece of lead pipe last night and thrown into a gully beside the roadway.

Miss Kavanaugh, when found last night, was very near death from wounds and exposure. She had three fractures of the skull.

"CRAZY ABOUT IT," COMMENT ON FIGHT OF MISS MORGAN

"It's All Right," She Tells Rickard, Speaking of Leonard-Mitchell Bout.

"It's all right. I'm crazy about it," said Miss Anne Morgan to Tex Rickard last night when all the other spectators at the big boxing show in Madison Square Garden were soayed up to a high pitch of excitement. Miss Morgan, who promoted the show for the benefit of the American Committee on Devastated France, sat calm and collected in her box at the ring-side.

While the preliminaries were going on and the women all about were emitting little feminine shrieks, half fright, half excitement, Miss Morgan preserved a dignified and watchful silence.
